

Build confidence, learn leadership, practice self-discipline and reinforce the concept of self-respect

All of these things and more are benefits received from participating in Tae Kwon-Do classes at Martial Arts World in Chester. And it is all achieved while exercising and learning some cool self-defense moves not to mention checking off the little box for P.E. on that list of things to do.

This is a fabulous family activity. Imagine standing side by side with your child and receiving a black belt. What confidence will your child receive when you must ask him/her to show you that certain move that you can't remember from class! There is something for everyone.
